Report on World Forest Day Celebration

Theme: Forest and Environment Protection

Date: 21st March, 2025

Venue: R. No. 342

The Eco Club and Bose Botanical Society of the Department of Botany successfully celebrated World Forest Day on 21st March, 2025, with great enthusiasm and active participation from students across various departments. The event aimed to highlight the crucial role forests play in maintaining ecological balance and to sensitize students about the importance of conserving our green wealth.

The program was inaugurated by the Vice-Principal, Ms. Neelam Guleria, who, in her inspiring address, emphasized the significance of forests as the lifeline of human existence. The event was further enriched by the presence of distinguished guests and jury members — Mr. Lavli Rana, Dr. Kanika Kaondal, and Mr. Sanjay Chauhan — who shared their valuable insights on forest conservation. They encouraged students to adopt sustainable lifestyles and take active roles in preserving natural resources.

Students from various departments enthusiastically participated in different activities, reflecting a shared commitment to environmental conservation. Their involvement showcased the collective responsibility and unity required to protect our forests for future generations

Thus, the World Forest Day Celebration 2025 at NSCBM Govt. College Hamirpur proved to be an inspiring and successful event. It not only showcased the creative talents of students but also strengthened the message of environmental responsibility. The event brought together students, faculty, and experts from different fields, fostering a collective spirit of environmental stewardship. From thought-provoking speeches to enthusiastic student participation, every element of the program reflected a deep concern for the future of our forests.

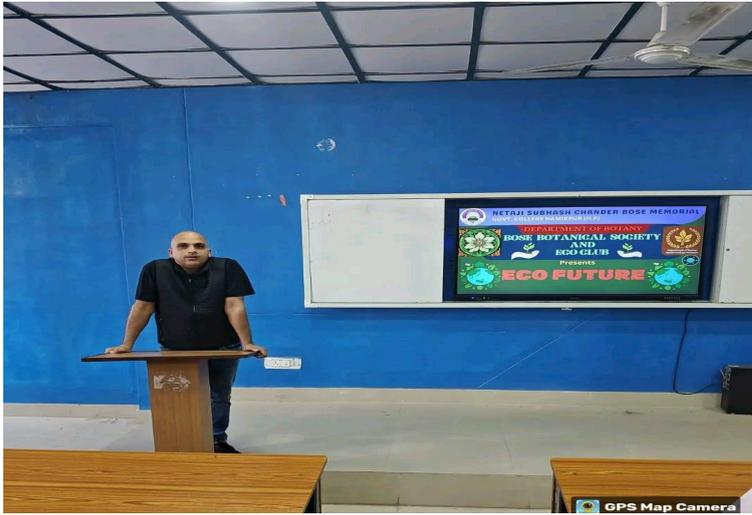

Various competitions such as poster-making, slogan writing, and quiz on forest conservation were held, which allowed students to express their ideas and understanding in innovative ways. Informative exhibits and presentations added an educational dimension, helping participants understand the practical steps that can be taken to protect forest ecosystems.

The program concluded with a heartfelt vote of thanks, acknowledging the efforts of the organizers, participants, Bose Botanical Society Members, and Eco Club volunteers, whose dedication made the event a grand success. Special appreciation was extended to the faculty mentors who guided the students throughout the preparations.

Through this celebration, our college once again reaffirmed its commitment towards protecting nature and spreading awareness about the need to conserve forests — the green heritage of our planet. It served as a reminder that safeguarding the environment is a shared responsibility and that every small action counts in the journey towards a more sustainable future.
