

SELF EMPLOYMENT AND SKILL DEVELOPMENT WORKSHOP ON MUSHROOM CULTIVATION

REPORT DAY-2

HANDS-ON TRAINING SESSION

DATE: 19th August, 2025

VENUE: Tagore Rangmanch

On the second day of the Mushroom Cultivation Workshop, the focus shifted from theory to hands-on practice. The resource person, [Name, Designation, Institution], guided participants through detailed practical demonstrations of mushroom cultivation techniques.

Students actively engaged in exercises such as substrate preparation, spawning, and maintenance procedures, gaining first-hand exposure to the essential steps of mushroom farming. The resource person also conducted elaborate demonstrations on different types of mushrooms, highlighting their unique cultivation requirements. The training emphasized in particular the methods of cultivating white button mushroom and oyster mushroom, which are among the most commercially significant and farmer-friendly varieties.

The interactive format enabled participants to clarify their doubts, build confidence, and acquire practical skills vital for taking mushroom cultivation beyond the classroom into real-world applications.

The day concluded with an engaging Q&A session, where students shared their observations and received insightful feedback and expert guidance from the resource person.
